QUALITY PROMISE

At Troika, we understand the value of exceptional build-quality, which makes our faucets easy to install and a pleasure to use.
From melting high-grade ingots into faultless brass castings, to machine the castings with fully automatic machines, to manual and semi-automatic grinding and rotary polishing for ensuring operational smoothness, to the final surface finishing and electroplating, our manufacturing process has been fine-tuned and made water-tight for delivering products of outstanding quality, at par with the best in the industry.
Each faucet is assembled by hand, by specially trained staff and subjected to comprehensive inspection and functional checks. All our faucets are vigorously tested at high operating and static pressures. We also subject our surface finishes to destructive testing, in order to maintain the specified standards of life expectancy.
